

SCHOOL OF
HUMANITIES AND
SOCIAL SCIENCES

Symposium on Linguistics and Intercultural Studies

Department of Applied Linguistics

September 9, 2023

HSG26, South Campus of XJTLU

Link for registration:

<https://xjtlu.mike-x.com/ltkgv>

Contact person: Qing.Li@xjtlu.edu.cn

Symposium on Linguistics and Intercultural Studies

Date: September 9 (Saturday), 2023

Venue: HSS G26, XJTLU

This symposium serves as an establishment ceremony for the Research Group for Linguistics and Intercultural Studies, affiliated with the Department of Applied Linguistics, Xi'an Jiaotong - Liverpool University. Six invited speakers, all of whom are members of this research group, will present their cutting-edge research. The invited talks will cover linguistics areas such as Systemic Functional Linguistics, child language acquisition, speech perception, discourse analysis, psycholinguistics, second language acquisition, English for academic purposes, historical linguistics, and corpus linguistics.

Timetable

9:00 – 9:30	Arrival and registration
9:30 – 10:00	Welcome
10:00 – 10:40	Bingjun Yang: Interpersonal metaphor in health communication
10:40 – 11:00	Tea Break
11:00 – 11:40	Hongwei Ding: Hearing assistive technology facilitates speech recognition in noise in Mandarin children with autism spectrum disorder
11:40 – 13:00	Lunch
13:00 – 13:40	Shiyu Wu: How is semantic prosody learned in L2 vocabulary acquisition: the effect of repetition or variation
13:40 – 14:20	Ling Lin: Part-of-speech patterns in research articles: A corpus-based cross-sectional study
14:20 – 14:40	Tea Break
14:40 – 15:20	Francesco Perono Cacciafoco: And the stone will speak: Searching for the missing text of the Singapore stone
15:20 – 16:00	Tanjun Liu: Building a corpus of students' disciplinary writing in EMI context
16:00	Closing and farewell

Link for registration: <https://xjtlu.mike-x.com/ItKGV>